All-star line-up ready to hit the links

The Dave Andreychuk Golf Classic at PineStone this Thursday is shaping up "wonderfully" according to organizer Bryan Brown.

The event will get under way with a shotgun start at 11 a.m. with a full field of golfers expected.

An impressive list of celebrities will be available and each foursome will include at least one celebrity.

Along with Toronto Maple Leafs forward Dave Andreychuk, some of the current NHL players include Basil McRae of the St. Louis Blues, Bernie Nichols of the New Jersey Devils, Peter Sidorkiewicz of the Ottawa Senators, Drake Berehowsky of the Leafs and Jeff Beukeboom of the Stanley Cup Champion New York Rangers. A few more may be confirmed before Thursday's tee-off.

Several retired NHL stars will take part in the fund-raising event as well. They include Eddie Shack, Norm Ullman, Carl Brewer, Alan Stanley, Mike Pelyk, Dan Maloney, Bob Nevin, Steve Vickers, Walt McKechnie, Ron Stackhouse and Glen Sharpley.

A number of radio and TV personalities are also expected, including Joe Tilley of CFTO TV, Fred Walker of CBC, John Hinnen of CHAY, John Eaton of The Wolf FM, Glen Williams of Rock 95, and Ted Walyshen of CFRB.

All four par three holes at PineStone have been sponsored by Elstone Motors for a hole-in-one contest. The prize at the first par three hole is a set of golf Rapid Action A competitor in the Ontario White Water Slalom team trials paddles his way through the fierce rapids on July 2 at the Minden Wild Water Preserve. Kayak competitions were held to select the members of the Ontario teams in singles, pairs and the junior divisions. These teams will be back on Sept. 10 and 11 for the Gull River Open Canoe Slalom Championship.

Youth rescues drowning friend at Maple Lake

Shawn Proctor dove in to rescue a seven-year-old swimmer.

A 10-year-old boy, who has never had a swimming lesson in his life, saved the life of his seven-year-old friend on July 1 after his father told him she was drowning.

Shawn Proctor and Alison Sinclair were swimming in Maple Lake. They were tossing a ball back and forth and did not realise they were so far from shore. Shawn's father, Terry, knew the children were swimming toward a 10 foot drop-off and called them back to shore.

As Shawn was swimming for shore, Terry watched Alison suddenly slip underwater. Since the children were so far out Terry called to his son, "Shawn, get her!"

Shawn swam back to find Alison. Thankfully she was wearing a bright blue bathing suit and was visible through the dark water. He reached down and grabbed her and began towing her to safety, occasionally checking to make sure her head was above water. Alison had been submerged for approximately 30 seconds. No CPR was required and the lucky swimmer is reported in good condition.

Help strike out blood shortages

The Canadian Red Cross will be holding a blood donor clinic this Tuesday in Haliburton to "strike out" summer shortages.

The clinic opens at 1:30 p.m. at the Haliburton Legion and runs until 8 p.m.

Anyone between the ages of 17 and 60, weighing more than 100 pounds, is eligible to be a first-time donor. Regular donors who have given within the preceding two years may continue to give blood until 71 years of age. The process takes about 45 minutes, including registration, the donation and rest time.

Festival draws art lovers to Minden

An estimated 2,600 to 2,700 people turned out for the fourth annual Highlands Artisans' Festival, which was held July 1, 2 and 3 at the Minden Community Centre. That represents an increase of about 500 people from last year.

The local festival is gradually making a name for itself as a quality show.

"I thought it went very well," said Doreen Berry, chairperson of the festival's organizing committee.

Berry said that the committee is working hard to promote the event as an artists' show, rather than as a craft show.

All of the work involved in organizing the festival is done on a volunteer basis. "It was a pretty good community effort," she said.

More than 300 people attended the festival on Friday evening, but the busiest time of the weekend was Saturday morning.

Berry pointed out that many of the visitors have attended previous

Jan Rainbow's country-style crafts were among the many outstanding works on exhibit at the fourth Highlands Artisans Festival shows.

The event is juried, which means the exhibitors have to meet quality standards established by the committee.

"We have to make sure the quality is kept high," Berry said.

The event was expanded to three days this year because Canada Day was on the Friday but it will be back to its usual two days for 1995.

As it turns out, Canada Day will be on Saturday next year so the show will coincide with the country's birthday anyway.

The festival is not intended as a money maker. Any profits that are realized are put back into a fund to be used for next year's operation.

"If it wasn't for the donations we get at the door," Berry said, "we'd be in trouble."

HEAT RELIEF

Minden Reeve Bern Berry and Councillor Gerald Rome make a toast to the completion of the village's new well. The seven-year project is designed to provide Minden with a supply of water to meet the expected development for years to come.

Minden gushes with pride in new well

Have a drink.
Have two.

The long, dry summer of 1993 is a thing of the past for Minden. The sun-parched lawns of the summer past can now drink up all the tap water they'd like, thanks to the completion of the new municipal well which will meet the village's water needs for years to come.

Minden Councillors, employees and representatives of Triton Engineering Services met in front of the new pumping station last week to officially celebrate the opening of the well. Unfortunately, the degree of public attention garnered by the closure of the old well last summer was not equalled when the ribbon was being cut to mark the opening of the new well Monday.

In his brief remarks, Minden Reeve Bern Berry thanked everyone who has been involved in the process. "This project began in 1987, and here we are seven years later after an expenditure of $700,000 and three different councils." He credited past councils, the Ministry of Environment, Peak Engineering and municipal staff for their perseverance in seeing this important project to completion.

"Minden now has potential for future development with the increased capacity of both our water and sewage systems," said Berry.

Councillor Gerald Rome, who chairs the public utilities committee, said he is relieved to have this project complete. He can recall the tension last summer as the reservoirs gradually dwindled and the danger of fighting fires without a water supply heightened. Water restrictions were imposed and tempers flared when the public tap at the fire hall was shut down.

Rome says it's highly unlikely that any water restrictions will be necessary this summer.

School board reflects on challenging year

by Kelly Pettinger

The Haliburton Highlands Board of Education recently reviewed the past year's courses at the high school and discussed which will be offered again next year.

Education director, Brad Saunders said the school year was "full of challenges to overcome," and said it wasn't done without difficulty.

Commenting on activity at the elementary level he said "Just look at how Mrs. Newton's and Mrs. Roodenburg's grade three classes created a Computer Integrated Video presentation, without much help from the teachers. And how Mrs. Newton's class made silk kites using Logo designs they created on the Icon and Apple computers."

He was particularly proud of the talented group, Kids On The Block. The ensemble included four students who volunteer their time to produce educational puppet shows for children.

At HHSS 230 students participated in 20 school teams, coached by 17 staff and five community volunteers. The teams won 11 team championships.

Saunders mentioned the artistic talent HHSS students demonstrated this year. The Concert Band participated in the Peterborough Kiwanis Festival and won third prize. The mixed woodwind and flute ensembles also went to the festival and won first and second prizes. The drama club produced three plays this past year. For Unto Y'All, Fool's Errand and Inside a Kid's Head.

TVO signal

Haliburton County's representative for TV Ontario's Southcentral Regional Council, Susan Wilson attended the meeting to ask for the board's support for an improved TVO signal for Haliburton County. She said it would be a benefit to the schools if TVO's educational programs were shown during class as a part of the daily curriculum.

Courses deleted

The Board discussed the deletion of courses for the up-coming school year. The following courses will not be offered next year: grade 12 General Accounting, OAC Literature, grade 11 Geography-Geology, grade 11 and 12 Electrical Technology for both semesters, grades 10-12 Manufacturing Technology, OAC French, grade 10 general French, and grade 12 Information Processing.

The Minden Minor Baseball Association wraps up another season on July 24 with a final tournament.

Did you know you have two heating systems in your home?

And you only need one

So why are you paying for two?

Yes it's true. The energy you burn to heat hot water in your house is nearly enough to heat the house too! But when hot water isn't being used, the heat escapes through the tank jacket and lines to the taps. Your water tank is forever being re-heated, waiting for you to draw off hot water.

So heating engineers have devised a heat exchanger to recapture this wasted energy and heat the house. It's so efficient that it will both heat the house and deliver all the water you can use. And the cost is a fraction of what you've been paying.

The secret is an oil fired hot water tank. Oil is the most convenient and inexpensive heating fuel available, nothing touches an oil fired hot water heater for quick recovery.

On the coldest days you never run out of hot water, instead of cold water returning to the tank, it comes from the exchanger only 15 or 20 degrees cooler than it left.

From units that have been installed, reports from owners are beyond all expectations. Most are getting both hot water and home heat for about what hot water alone once cost them. Annual home heating bills of several thousand dollars are down to a few hundred for a year's supply of oil.

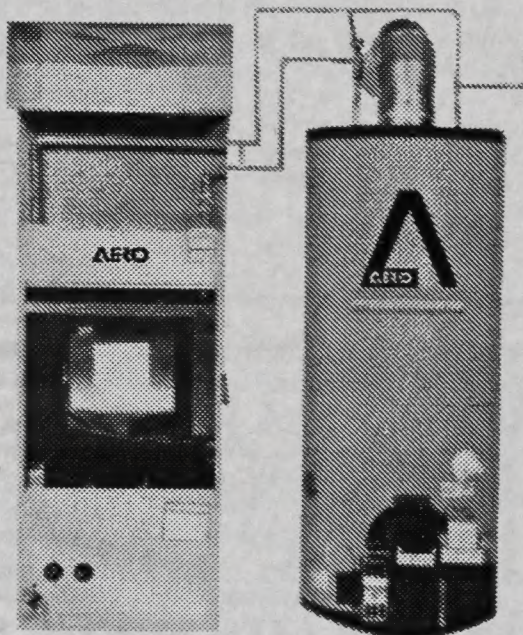

The savings in energy costs will repay the cost of installation of your new oil fired hot water tank and heat exchanger in as little as two or three years. The heat exchanger, is rendering the conventional furnace obsolete.

Heat exchangers are built for domestic, commercial and industrial installations. They require only a few square feet and fit easily into almost any location.

The tank can be 100 feet from the exchanger, even in another building. Central air, humidifiers, air filtering are easily added. Side venting can replace a chimney.

Learn more about a heat exchanger for your home or place of business. You'll be astounded at the savings. Winter heating costs, will cease to be a major concern.

At the museum Reliving pioneer days in cottage country

The fun of cottaging in the Highlands wasn't always power boats and lawn chairs... not by a longshot.

Murray Robertson, beside the stove in the photo above, guided a small, but attentive, audience through the pioneering days of cottage country during a fire-side chat (without the fire) at the County Town Museum last week.

A summer in the Highlands years ago meant a long, journey over rugged roads to camp out in tents or small cabins. The modern luxuries -- telephones, electricity and plumbing -- were non-existent when cottagers first began the annual trek to the Haliburton lakeshores.

Robertson offered extensive detail about the area's early settlers mixing in a generous helping of anecdotes. He told about cutting and storing ice to sell to the cottagers, the arrival of the the county's first kerosene powered refrigerator, the gradual settlement of the Finnish colony near Ingoldsby and much more, during his two-hour talk at the Bowron log home.

The museum has a long list of activities for this summer. The next event will be the old fashioned Christmas tea on July 13. The celebration of Christams in July begins at 1 p.m. at 176 Bobcaygeon Road in Minden.

Norland festival a shootout for Children's Aid

The events of Norland's Old West Weekend will kick off officially at 11 a.m. Saturday, when MP John O'Reilly, MPP Chris Hodgson, Laxton, Digby, Longford Reeve Doug Horton, School Board Trustee Dianne Austin and Patti Hendriks of the Kawartha-Haliburton Children's Foundation will be on hand to share in the festivities.

Friday evening the Laura Mattsson Band and a Karaoke contest will be featured in the community centre at Ward Memorial Park just north of Norland on Highway 35.

Prizes will be awarded for the best karaoke performer as well as the best dressed cowboy and cowgirl.

"We hope to raise a minimum of $2,000 for the Children's Foundation from this year's event," said organizer Dianne Austin. "Last year the funds raised helped to purchase a wheelchair for a needy child."

Last year was the first Old West Weekend in Norland and it proved very popular. This year's activities are even more ambitious.

"The Old West Weekend is a fun-filled event that provides enjoyment for all ages," said Rena Parno, chairperson of the organizing committee.

Flapjacks

Saturday's events will start with a flapjack breakfast at 9 a.m. Throughout the day there will be contests such as air rifle shooting, arm wrestling, horseshoe pitching, nail driving and photo and craft contests.

Other features include a fortune teller, face painting, helicopter rides, line dancers, pioneer games, pony rides, a beef barbecue and hay rides.

Live bands will perform during the day as well.

Highlights from Sunday include the bikini contest, a men's best buns contest, a toddler's swimsuit contest, an antique car parade, best western dressed dog, talent contest and others. The finals of the horse-shoe pitching and the judging of the photo and craft contests will take place Sunday as well.

A tug of war, between the organizing committee and personnel from CKLY Radio in Lindsay is scheduled for 3 p.m. The committee will be attempting to retain its crown.

Air rifle shooting and helicopter rides will continue.

Proceeds from Norland's Old West Weekend will go to Victoria and Haliburton Children's Aid.

Egg-citing fun was in store for all at the Canada Day activities in Norland. Several challenging events kept participants entertained, including a hilarious bout of egg tossing.

Making a difference

We've known all along. There is a tremendous number of people who make important contributions to the quality of life in the Haliburton Highlands.

During the summer months, The Times has been featuring stories about people who have made a contribution our community. Under the general heading of "People Who Make a Difference", we have been shining the spotlight on ordinary folk, who, through their dedication and hard work, have made a difference in the lives of others. As we search each week for new subjects for our series, we realize the difficulty lies not in finding suitable individuals but in deciding who to feature each week.

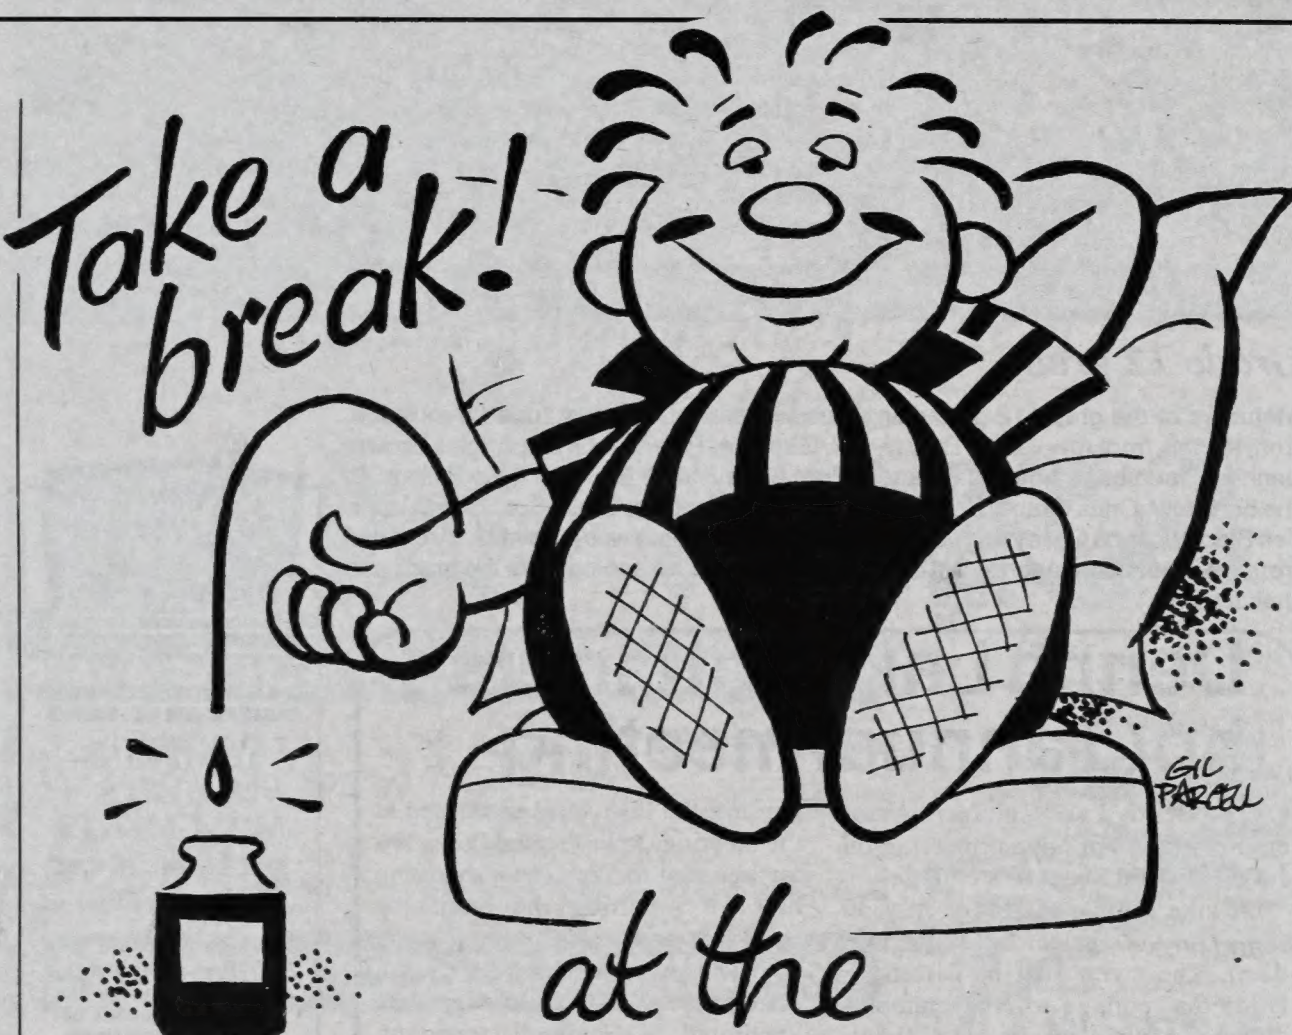

There are so many people from all parts of the county who somehow find a way to lend their time, talent and enthusiasm in a multitude of ways. From umpires to organizers, from seniors to teens, we have begun to realize the high level of commitment these people possess. Some of the individuals we have featured are already well-known in the community. However in many cases, outside of the close circle of individuals involved in an activity, their contribution is made without fanfare.

This week's volunteer, Lee Oster, is a case in point. A familiar face to anyone who lives in or frequents the Minden area, most people are likely unaware of the hard work and dedication that his contribution represents. It would be unusual to go through a week without being greeted by Lee at least once, either with a friendly wave from behind the wheel of his blue pick-up truck or with a jovial smile and friendly sale's pitch from behind his ticket table.

We hope through this series of articles to, in some small way, recognize the contribution these people make to our community and illustrate how they 'make a difference'. We also hope, by relating these stories, others will be encouraged to become active and lend their time and energy to help their community.

If you are aware of anyone who has made a difference in our community, please drop us a note outlining their community involvement and achievements. Although we can't feature everyone, we will endeavour to present a cross-section that is representative of these wonderful people.

Reader finds business licence fee for student enterprise is reprehensible

Editor,

Reprehensible adequately describes the decision of the Anson, Hindon and Minden Council regarding a teenage high school boy, a budding entrepreneur, endeavouring to sell hot dogs this summer to assist in securing tuition fees for the following term and being assessed $150 for the privilege of so doing.

Surely the approval of the health board and the agreement with the property owners should be sufficient without a charge which would do away with a considerable percentage of the summer's profit.

Is it not time that some of our elected representatives tried to encourage our young people in more of their efforts as is being done in many other countries?

Damon Smith is to be congratulated for his resourcefulness and ingenuity.

O' Canada

Rob Reid of Harmony Road holds Matthew Sperling, 5, of Omeme, up to the microphone to sing O Canada at the Kinmount Canada Day festivities while Joanne Reid and former MP Bill Scott look on. Matthew was visiting relatives in Kinmount and joined in the Canada Day celebrations.

The event featured games for the kids, a visit by Fred and Wilma Flintstone, karate demonstrations, a Legion D-Day remembrance ceremony, a puppet show, clowns, entertainment by the band Harmony Road and fireworks.

The fund-raising raffle for a patio set was won by Julie Austin of Kinmount.

Garden-variety villains

Genghis Khan. Adolf Hitler. Pol Pot. Lucretia Borgia. All names that will live forever in the annals of infamy and villainy.

But far from the only names that belong on the list. How about...

Cypress Spurge and his evil cousin Leafy?

Dodder?

Black Seeded Proso Millet?

And the repulsively monickered Tuberous Vetchling?

Mass murderers? Serial killers? Psychopathic terrorists?

Naw. All of the above are as common as crabgrass and as near as your back yard.

My back yard, anyway. All of the aforementioned are garden variety noxious weeds, capable of showing up in the cracks between your patio stones faster than you can say "Quick, Martha — hand me the Killer Kane."

And these aren't the only verdent varmints that cry out for vigilance. Alert lawn owners must also be on the lookout for perennial pests like the Poisons Ivy, Oak and Hemlock, not to mention the ubiquitous Thistle — Sow, Bully Canada, Nodding, Russian and Scotch.

I don't know what it's like where you live, but we've got Weed Police in my neck of the woods. Undercover agents for the Public Works Department whose job it is to snoop down laneways and peer over garden fences to see if anybody's harboring a clandestine crop of Burdock, Milkweed or Wild Carrot.

Oh well. Keeps them out of the pool hall, I guess.

The thing that most ticks me off about weeds is that they're so damned easy to grow. I'm going to spend the next couple of months nursing my vegetable garden along like a flock of premature babies. And for what? After hours of mulching and Weeds really do grow as if they have their own personal supply of anabolic steroids.

Black'n White

by Arthur Black

composting and fertilizing and coddling I will be rewarded with a crop of:

Pencil-sized carrots.

Tomatoes that resemble jade golf balls.

Potatoes so wizened they look like they came straight out of Tutankamen's tomb.

Corn cobs the raccoons won't even eat.

Green peas the size (and hardness) of BB shot and...

WEEDS! Giant weeds! Rain forest weeds! Weeds with trunks the size of redwoods and leaves like elephant ears!

Why is it the crops I want to grow practically cry out for an oxygen tent and intravenous feedings, while all around these anorexic little failures, quack grass, plantain, knapweed come up like telephone poles?

Weeds really do grow as if they have their own personal supply of anabolic steroids. Away back in 1879, scientists at Michigan State University put several lots of twenty common weed seeds into glass bottles and set them on a shelf.

Twenty-five years later they dug some of them out and planted them. Over half of them bloomed like new and pumped out a whole new generation of seeds. Then the scientists put the experiment on the back Bunsen burners as it were, and forgot about it. In 1959, somebody dug up and planted 20 of the original seeds again. Three of them produced viable seedlings — 80 years after they'd been taken out of circulation.

That doesn't surprise me. I've seen weeds punch right through the pavement of my driveway. All I want to know is: what's their secret? If I could grow eggplant the way I grow Ragweed, I could change my name to Jolly Green Giant and never darken the produce section of my supermarket again.

But I can't I know that come harvest time, the vegetable rows in my garden will look like the before picture in a Charles Atlas ad.

While the paths between the rows will look like a close-up of the Belgian Congo.

It's depressing. I need a pick-me-up. Perhaps a glass of wine.

Dandelion, of course.

BLAIRHAMPTON GOLF CLUB

Doug Prozac has added a new feature to his golf course tucked away in the rolling hills of Blairhampton. Golfers can now warm up or practise their swings on the natural grass driving range. The driving range, adjacent to the club house, is open all day. There was more than a little soil to be moved when the driving range was installed. In fact they had to blast a little Highlands granite to create the level landscape needed for the range. The range includes a number of targets, with a slight rise in the distance. The rates are $6 for a large bucket of balls and $3.75 for a small.

NASHVILLE NORTH

The renovations to the interior of the Nashville North Trading Company are now complete. Dale Merrill is happy to report. After several weeks of late nights with hammer and saw, he has expanded the sales area to include the portion of the building formerly occupied by Wendy Ladurantaye's Dreams Come True stained glass workshop.

INGOLDSBY GENERAL STORE

Just in time for the busy summer season, Brian Watts and Patty Morrison have re-opened the Ingoltsby General Store at the west end of Lake Kashagawigamog. As the name implies, they have a little bit of everything in stock including video rentals, groceries, convenience items, and ice cream. They'll also be serving up burgers, fries, etc. from Patty's Kitchen.

HART LODGE

There are many changes taking place at Hart Lodge according to innkeeper Wayne Cowling. A group of artisans from the Highlands has taken over what has become known over the years as the Chatterbox. They are offering an excellent selection of some of the best this county's many artists can offer. The stock includes an eclectic mixture of paintings in a variety of media, pottery and other items. To accommodate the artisans, Wayne has moved his store across the road to a building next to the gas pump, where it will be more convenient for Mountain Lake residents arriving by boat. As well, on Saturdays during the summer months, Barry Day of Day Airways will be offering scenic flights over the Highlands from the Hart Lodge Mountain Lake dock. The flights will give passengers a whole new perspective on the Highlands and will provide an opportunity to take some aerial photographs. While you're waiting for your flight to take off or after touching down, passengers will be able to chow down. Hart Lodge staff will be frying up burgers and hot dogs down by the dock during the flights. Fly-in fishing expeditions are also being offered through the lodge and Day Airways. Naturally, the flights are contingent on appropriate weather conditions.

PERFECT PRINTS

There is an interesting display of photographs to be seen at the Perfect Prints outlet on Haliburton's Highland Street. Taken by Jim Wuepper, they show dramatic scenes of wolves. Jim Wuepper raised a family of wolves at his home in the Upper Peninsula in Michigan. Wuepper's experiences and the life stories of this pack were documented in Highland's author R.D. Lawrence's book, In Praise of Wolves, which was made into a television documentary. The prints are being sold exclusively through the Perfect Prints outlet.

EASTON'S VALU-MART

Congratulations are in order to Harold Harrison of Minden who is the winner of a trip to Mexico sponsored by Easton's Valu-mart stores in Minden and Haliburton. Mr. Harrison had entered the contest during the "Owners in the Store" promotion in May and was selected from entries received at a number of Valu-mart locations.

ISLAND PARADISE FITNESS

Lisa Box is sprucing up more than bodies these days. Her fitness and exercise business on Haliburton's Highland Street now sports two new signs.

BACK TO BASICS

Adding to her line of products, Stephanie Turcotte has added a peanut butter making machine at her store on York Street in Haliburton. In a couple of minutes she can grind a container of fresh, chemical and additive-free peanut butter for her customers.

Haliburton team places second in No-Pro Bass Tourney

by Jerry Grozelle

Plastic worms, crank-baits, jig'n'pig combos, spinnerbaits... competitors in the Bass'N'Tario live release bass tournament threw everything in their tackle boxes at the fish trying to tempt the lunkers to bite.

Most of the 32 teams that entered the first ever no-pro Bass'N'Tario fishing tournament had at least one fish to show for their efforts over the course of the one-day event.

Head Lake Park in Haliburton was the headquarters for the event, with a good turnout of spectators for the official weigh-in, starting at about 3:30 p.m. on July 3.

First place in the tournament went to Greg Anderson and Steve Nevell of the Toronto area. They weighed in a total of 12.08 pounds. Two of those fish topped four pounds and one was the big fish of the day at 4.42 pounds.

The first place finish for Anderson and Nevell was worth more than $1,000 in prizes and cash. The big fish earned the duo another $150. This was the first tournament they had ever fished.

Haliburton anglers Chris Coumbs and Scott Bird were the second place finishers. Bird said that the secret to their success was fishing really slowly.

The second place duo used mostly soft plastics — worms and jigs.

"We fished one shore after two other boats had already fished it and we caught two of our biggest fish there," Bird said.

If Bird had caught any one of the three-four pound class fish that got away, the Haliburton natives would have come out on top in the tournament.

"We caught about 12 keepers (13 inches or longer) all day," Bird said. "We had really good luck."

Coumbs and Bird actually had their limit of five bass in the live well by 10 a.m.

They concentrated on Kashagawigamog, although all five lakes in the chain were open to the tournament anglers.

The majority of the 110-plus fish that made an appearance at the weigh scales were caught in water ranging from three to 10 feet deep.

Chris Coumbs said he thought the event was "pretty good for the first year." He added that he really enjoyed the tournament.

Coumbs said that almost all of the fish that he and Bird caught were around pencil reeds or near docks.

"If you could find a dock next to some pencil reeds it was really good," he said.

Coumbs looked at the event from two perspectives. First, it was a chance to spend the day on the water enjoying some fishing, with the chance to win some prizes; and secondly, "it brought a lot of money into the county."

If there was one thing the two Haliburton anglers were critical of, it was the fact that none of the top teams received any kind of trophy or certificate to indicate that they had finished in the top few positions.

Only one fish failed to survive the stress of being caught. The four pound-plus fish was by far the biggest smallmouth bass of the day and would have been in contention for the big fish of the day if it had been brought in alive. The rest were released unharmed, and maybe a little wiser.

clubs if anyone gets a hole-in-one. The prize at the second par three hole is air fare to anywhere in the world, valued at about $3,000. If anyone aces the third par three the prize is a golfing vacation for two in Scotland. A hole-in-one on the fourth par three hole will be worth a new Neon, valued at more than $15,000. Including the hole-in-one prizes, the potential total available is about $35,000.

Several designated spectator areas will be roped off and Brown says that children under the age of 12 "absolutely must be accompanied by an adult."

Along with the day of golf, participants will also take part in the banquet and auction. Guest speaker at the dinner is Brian McFarlane, who is well known as host and commentator on Hockey Night In Canada. McFarlane has also written more than 40 hockey related books and he penned the song "Clear the Track, Here Comes Shack", which was popular on the Canadian radio charts for several weeks. He also opened the Brian McFarlane Hockey Museum in Colborne, Ontario.

The evening's auction will feature a variety of items, mostly sports related. One item that is bound to be popular is a "Leaf for a Day" package. It will include attendance at a closed practice, meeting all of the Leaf players and attending a game, watching from the press box.

A number of limited edition prints will also be on the auction block. Some will be autographed by Maple Leaf and Blue Jays players, such as Andreychuk, Dave Gilmour, Pat Borders and others. A baseball, autographed by Devon White, and several autographed hockey sticks and tickets to Leaf games will also be auctioned.

The event will go ahead rain or shine. Proceeds will go to the County Hospital Fund.

"We're shooting for at least $15,000 or more," Brown said.

Bantam A Royals stay above .500

by Jerry Grozelle

The Minden Handy Man bantam A Royals remain above .500 with seven wins and six losses in 13 games.

Two games against Omemee on July 3 didn't do anything to help the Minden team's average. The first of the day's games was a 10 a.m. start in Minden. Omemee emerged victorious by a 13-8 margin in that one.

Dwight Bryant led the Minden attack, hitting a three run homer in the sixth inning. He scored another run besides.

Darren Mills and Chris Neilson each added a pair of runs to the Minden tally and single runs were scored by Steve Ecclestone and Sheamus Donnery.

Neilson pitched the first four innings, giving up just two runs and striking out five Omemee batters.

Game two of the day was played in Omemee, starting at 8 p.m. This one was closer, but again, Omemee came out on top. The final score was 8-7.

Ryan Anderson was the big gun for the Royals in that game. He hit two singles and scored two runs.

Bryant, Corey Casey, Mills, Donnery and Ashley Walker crossed the plate with one run apiece.

The Minden boys celebrated Canada Day with a 9-8 win over Oakwood at the Minden Ball Park.

Matt Cheesman stole the lime-light in that game. He led the Royals' assault with a three-run dinger. He scored two runs himself, including the winner when he scampered home from third on a wild pitch. That home run was his third of the season.

Bryant scored three runs, with Ecclestone and Jamie Henderson adding two each.

The June 30 game in West Guilford against Haliburton could be the most heartbreaking loss of the season for the Minden boys. They were down 10-3 after two innings but battled back to take an 11-10 lead by the top of the seventh (and final) inning.

Logan Perry won the game for Haliburton when he ripped a three-run homer with two out.

Bryant, Henderson, Mills and Walker scored two runs each for the Royals, with Ecclestone, Neilson and Wayne Kernohan adding one apiece.

A game in Oakwood on June 21 saw the home side score the winning run on a bloop single in the bottom of the last inning for an 11-10 win.

Ecclestone was three for three at the plate (two doubles and a single), scoring each time. He also picked up two RBIs.

Henderson contributed to the losing cause with three RBIs and one run scored. Mills and Walker scored two runs each and Anderson crossed the plate with one run.

Minden coach Tom Ecclestone is happy with the team's play in spite of the recent losses.

"The boys are playing really well," he said.

The Minden Handy Man team was scheduled to play three games over the past weekend.

The next home game for the Minden boys will be Sunday, July 17, when they will play host to Bobcaygeon.

St. Louis Blues winger Basil McRae to help launch new Spot 97 opening

by Jerry Grozelle

Giving people as many recreational opportunities as possible is the goal of the expanded Spot 97, according to Brian Shaw, one of the partners in the venture. The other partner is Jack Saunders. Greg Carpenter is the manager.

The expanded facility has been open at the new location on Main Street for a couple of weeks but the official Grand Opening Ceremonies are slated for Saturday, July 16.

Basil McRae, left winger for the St. Louis Blues, will be on hand to sign autographs from noon to 2 p.m. on the 16th.

He has been working out at Spot 97 for about three weeks and will continue on a regular basis until mid-August.

McRae owns a cottage on Boshkung Lake and about three times a week he rides his bike to Minden to work out at Spot 97.

All the equipment the sports enthusiast could want, from golf, hockey, baseball, tennis, bikes, roller blades and other sporting equipment is available at Spot 97. For those who like to work out regularly, the facility offers full fitness/weight training.

Aerobics classes are held at least four times a week, with instructors Cathy Shaw (Brian's wife), Laura Willis and Kelly Davis, all certified aerobics instructors.

"The quality of our fitness instructors is second to none," Brian Shaw said. "They are the backbone of our fitness club."

Personalized fitness programs are also offered.

Fitness club memberships are available yearly, half-yearly, monthly or even daily, for those who are only in the Minden area for a short time but want to keep up with their workouts. Shaw is covering all the bases.

The new Spot 97 has three batting cages and a 9-hole mini golf course, which opened this past weekend. After researching the market, Shaw decided on a Master Pitch pitching machine. It is one of the most popular pitching machines and is used by most of the Major League baseball teams.

After a demanding session in the batting cages or on the mini golf course, patrons can come into the store and quench their thirst or cool off with any one of a variety of ice cream products at "What's The Scoop", an ice cream parlour in one corner of the store. What's The Scoop is owned and operated by Terry and Shelley Crowe as a complement to the other facilities.

Trout anglers' input sought

If you have an interest in lake trout or speckled (brook) trout, mark July 13 on your calendar. That's when the Minden office of the Ministry of Natural Resources will be holding an open house and public review of plans that will affect this fishery.

The public will have the opportunity to voice concerns regarding these proposals at this, and other forums in the district.

Some of the proposals that will be of interest to the angling public, and especially to people who earn at least part of their living by selling live bait and tackle or renting ice huts include:

- Discontinuing the stocking of lake trout in lakes that have naturally reproducing fish.

- Closing lakes with natural reproduction of lake trout to winter fishing.

- Imposing slot limits and/or minimum size limits.

- Prohibiting the use of live bait; allowing only artificial bait to be used.

- Imposing minimum size limits on brook trout and restricting fishing to artificial baits only.

The above are some of the proposals that will be implemented as soon as 1995.

To have a say regarding which of these proposals are put into effect, contact your local office of the Ministry of Natural Resources for details on the time and place of the open house in Minden on July 13 or the one at the Frost Centre on July 16.

SLACAR asked for support in TVO bid

The South Lake Association of Cottagers and Residents (SLACAR) held their Annual General Meeting on July 9 at Murray and Gayle Rowett's cottage.

About 25 members brought their lawn chairs to soak up the morning sun on the shores of the lake, catch up on the association's progress and enjoy the company of their lake neighbours.

Except for some complaints about the noise from jet-skis on the lake, there were no "hot" topics on this year's agenda. Members heard reports from their various committees and then listened to guest speakers Susan Wilson and Don Hutton.

Wilson is Haliburton County's representative on TVOntario's Southcentral Regional Council. She encouraged SLACAR members to lend their support to the goal of bringing a clear TVO signal into the Highlands.

Haliburton County is situated in an "electronic black hole," said Wilson. Because of the distance from transmitters and the hilly topography, the TVO signal fails to reach us. The solution, she said, is to get Queen's Park to say yes to a transmitter that will provide a strong signal to this area.

The injustice is that people in Haliburton County are paying for something they don't receive. While 97 per cent of Ontario homes have access to the signal, 100 per cent of the people pay for it, she said.

Even more important is the need

June weather

by Phil Graham

June was quite a warm month with an average temperature of 16.8 C (62.2 F) even though the first week was cool.

Generally, this June was very similar to June of 1993, even to the severe hail storm on June 12. Last year we had a storm on June 27. The hail storm was local around Minden and areas to the south and east. It started south of Georgian Bay, crossed Coldwater, Washago, Minden and on to Bancroft. There were some damage reports.

The rainfall was heavy at times but was well spaced for the growing season. June 6, 12, 13, 25 and 29, giving us five inches in total. The lowest temperature during the month was 0 C or 32 F on June 3. There was frost in some areas. The month's high temperature was 34 C or 93.2 F on June 16 and 17.

Whatever the weather was, the blackflies and mosquitoes apparently enjoyed it.

Cottagers should plan for capital gains taxes for the type of programs offered by TVO, she said. The high proportion of seniors in the county's population would appreciate an escape from the commercial programs which originate in the U.S. and are largely aimed at a young audience.

Further, the educational programming is of particular interest to people who do not have ready access to colleges and universities. "All of us who live up here have to be much more creative about earning a living," she said.

Wilson asked members to sign a petition to the Minister of Culture and Communications for the installation of a transmitter. She also asked anyone willing to write a letter to the minister to do so.

Capital Gains

Don Hutton provided SLACAR members with some information to help them with financial planning for the future sale or transfer of their cottage properties. Hutton said the Capital Gains exemption on cottages was eliminated in February, which means that anyone selling their cottages will pay more taxes if they sell. He said it is important for all cottage owners to be prepared for this added cost and suggested that the purchase of life insurance is a good way to do this.

Haliburton County's TV Ontario representative, Susan Wilson, got a positive response to her request for support for an improved television signal for the Highlands. Wilson spoke at the annual meeting of the South Association of Cottagers and Residents July 2.

"The loss of the exemption has made estate planning more important and more crucial," said Hutton.

Water Quality

Bill Kelly, who has been monitoring the water quality of South Lake for the past eight years made a brief report to the members. In the past, he said, the testing was for chlorophyll levels. Future tests will be for phosphorous. Kelly said he is retiring from this post at the end of the summer, at which point the association will be looking for a new volunteer.

Reports

Other committee reports are as follows:

Bob Martin reported on his observations in regard to municipal council. He said council has done a good job in regard to the management of taxes in Snowdon Township.

Michael Roy is SLACAR's new lake steward. He has completed a draft version of a biophysical report on the lake, which he described as a "snapshot of the environment of the lake."

Ray Lymer reported that a pitch-in campaign is scheduled for August 20, prior to the annual corn roast. He said the amount of litter collected at this annual event is getting smaller, which is a sign that people care about the appearance of the area. All children who help clean up the litter will receive a free hot dog at the corn roast.

SLACAR's representative on FOCA reported that some progress is being achieved to reduce the noise of jet skis. He said manufacturers are now building products that don't make quite so much noise. Still, he said, there are concerns for safety and the welfare of lake environments that need to be addressed.

The next event on SLACAR's calendar is a yard sale on July 30, beginning at 10 a.m. on Lot 9.

4-H makes sewing a blast

by Ashley O'Connell
Northern Explorers 4-H Club.

If you're wondering what is this 4-H you've been hearing so much about — well, I'll tell you.

4-H is a wonderful fun learning experience for anyone from the ages of 10 to 21. You learn to cook, sew and have fun.

You are probably thinking, "Cook?

Sew? How could that possibly be any fun?"

Well, it is. In our six group sessions we cooked, sewed, made recycled paper, played games, learned about farming, talked to a vet, and went for an airplane ride. I had a great experience. 4-H is 4-me and 4-H is 4-U too.

Auxiliary pulls together through active month

by Mary Guillemain

The month of June has been a very exciting and productive month. The event of Lola Prentice's birthday party will be well remembered. About 250 people brought their best wishes. Lola looked radiant and we all wish her many more happy birthdays. The Ladies Auxiliary of Hyland Crest catered to this happy event, preparing fruit trays, decorated with nine assorted fruits, also cheese trays and assorted fruit breads. The tables were decorated with soft pink table cloths with center pieces of pink and white carnations. I must mention that the Ladies Auxiliary outdid themselves in undertaking many projects throughout the year to raise funds for the benefit of our seniors. Last month a special shampoo chair was bought to alleviate the stress when the residents get their hair washed.

In order to celebrate Canada Day, the residents and our activity co-ordinator Doris Roberston Alton organized a jam making session. Our local berries were not yet ready but we were saved by Jane Robertson who lives in Toronto, yet she had to travel to Streetsville and pick the berries for us by herself. She delivered the berries (eight six-quart baskets), plus aching legs, back and a very good sun burn, and so is the dedication of some volunteers. Helping in cooking the jam were Jane Robertson, Donna Black, Mary Guillemain, Donna Wallace, Irene Fuhr, plus 10 residents and our always faithful Doris. The jam is delicious.

At our last meeting we had a very good attendance of 27 members. The final arrangements were made for our strawberry tea. A very big thank-you is being extended to Alice Rivers for selling tickets all through the month of June on the Gourmet Basket. She is one nice lady.

The flea market on July 16 is progressing favourably. Donations of saleable articles are coming in. I wish to thank Betty Hicks from the Lochlin United Church for being so generous with her donations for our cause.

The sewing circle girls have completed their third quilt for the Art and Craft Auction on July 9 at 7 p.m. in the auditorium of Hyland Crest. Another quilting bee made this third quilt a possibility as we were running out of time. Once again many thanks to the ladies who came out to help us.

I am not a native of this county, but I do feel the warmth and sincerity when these women share their expertise and time to help us at Hyland Crest. Many hands made our task so much easier.

We have one more big event coming up at the end of July and then we can relax a bit. We are contemplating a gigantic rummage sale of ladies', men's and children's clothing, shoes, bedding, etc. There will be bargains galore. Keep this date of July 30 in mind. I would like to remind anyone who would like to be a volunteer at Hyland Crest to contact me at 286-5168. Just ask for Mary. I like to hear my phone ring.

People Who Make a Difference

Almost every morning he unloads his truck, sets up a small table in front of the IGA or the IDA, says a warm hello to a few familiar faces as they stroll by, checks his cash reserve, and prepares himself for another busy day of ticket-selling.

While other people may spend their free time at home watching television or reading, Lee Oster gives up his time to help others. And a lot of that time is spent selling raffle tickets for the Lions Club's various draws like the rubber ducky race or the "luxury draw" or the hockey pool, or a Lioness draw, or whatever is current. But frequently he will help out other groups. Last week, in addition to the Lions/Lioness Club tickets displayed on his table, he was also selling tickets for a group from the seniors apartments who are supporting K9 Vision (a seeing eye dog charity) and also had tickets to help raise funds to assist in the cost of renovations for the school house acquired recently by the museum committee.

"I am selling these tickets for the K9 Vision because my friend Maurice Boyd just became ill and I'm taking over for him. He has 14 books of tickets to sell and if I can help him sell them that would be great. It would take a load off his mind. He's my best friend and I would do anything for him," said Oster.

But Oster doesn't just help out friends, he tries to help anyone who needs it.

"I try to help out as many people as I can selling tickets for different groups. This past winter I sold 145 of the $100.00 tickets for the Luxury Draw for the Lions Club. So they made $14,500 from me alone," he said with pride.

Oster, 77, was born in Toronto and lived in his family home for about 65 years. He joined the Canadian Air Force in 1942 and served overseas during World War II for about three years. When he returned, he took a ham radio operator's course at Central Tech in Toronto. After a short period of time in school, Oster began working for the National Cash Register Company in Toronto, assembling cash registers. He was with the company for 41 years.

Buying tickets for sight! Lee Oster smiles as he sells a few more tickets to help raise money for seeing eye dogs for the blind. Paul Heffer and Cathy Arbour are glad to help the good cause.

Oster spends a great deal of effort selling tickets, but he still finds time to attend meetings and special events for the clubs he belongs to. He is a member of the Lions Club (and has served as president of the club) and is this year's chairman of the County Town Museum committee. He is also involved with the Legion and has been a member of the Knights of Columbus in Toronto since 1946.

"It's a long time to belong to an organization," he said. "But I still support them. Any chance I get I buy their tickets and they buy mine. We help each other out from time to time."

Oster is also a member of the Minden Amateur Radio Club. The club assists with community events. "If there's something special going on, we use the call sign VE3 MIN. It's also my licence plate number," he laughs. "We get involved with anything that's local. The Sled Dog Derby, Highland Yard foot race, the Santa Claus Parade, and others."

Years ago, Oster was a volunteer for the local branch of the Cancer Society. He helped out by driving cancer patients to hospitals in Toronto in his truck. "I just wanted to help these sick people and this was probably the only way I could. I gave them transportation to the hospital, from there it was up to the doctors," said Oster.

He discovered the Highlands when he and his wife Florence started vacationing at Chateau Woodland. Oster said he was drawn to Minden because he liked how the town looked. "It's the best little town around. It sure doesn't take a blind man to see that," said Oster.

Oster moved to Minden over 10 years ago after his wife died of cancer. "We had 19 wonderful years of marriage together," he said. "I wish she was still here, but she's gone so now I put my efforts in helping other people."

Hyland Crest Bazaar a big hit

The annual Strawberry Tea and Bazaar at Hyland Crest Senior Citizens' Home was a huge success.

An estimated 150 people attended the event on July 2 in the auditorium.

More than $725 was raised from the sale of home made jam alone, including sales on the main street over the holiday weekend.

The quilt and bazaar items combined, generated $763 and the Auxiliary brought in about $700 from the Strawberry Tea. All of the items that were for sale at the bazaar were made locally by volunteers and donated for the event.

"We're really pleased," said Doris Robertson, activities director at Hyland Crest.

Renovation zones -- get the lead out

Renovating your home can be a very rewarding experience. However, there can be a hidden health hazard since many older homes (pre 1950) contain lead-based paints. Removing lead-based paints as part of a renovation can expose you and your family to a health risk. Babies, young children and pregnant women are especially vulnerable to the harmful effects of lead.

You can reduce the risk by following these steps:

Wear protective coveralls, goggles, gloves. A respirator would be ideal.

Use chemical strippers, not sanders or heat, to remove paint.

Remove furnishings and seal off the work area from the rest of the house.

Remove work clothing and shoes every time you leave the work area.

Clean the work area thoroughly at the end of each day.

Ensure that everyone, especially children, washes his or her hands often and always before meals.

Never drink or smoke in the work area.

Copies of the booklet called "Renovation — Lead in Your Home" are available from your nearest Information Centre.

Your local information centre is now a member of the information network, Online Ontario. This project is made possible by the people of Ontario and the Ministry of Culture, Tourism and Recreation.

TSW Waterways Report

Humid air (with some rainfalls) has resulted in wetter than usual conditions for late June. Some decline of the Haliburton reservoirs has resulted from losses about 10 days ago when very dry conditions occurred. These lakes were still at 94.1 per cent on Monday, June 27 compared to the normal 90.9 per cent.

This week, (up to June 30) has required release of surplus from the Kawarthas. Flows on the Otonabee have been increased to about 55 cubic metres per second, compared to the normal June flow of 51. July normal flow of the Otonabee is 42 cubic metres per second. Drier conditions after Canada Day will likely result in reduced flows again.

TV distorts true pace of nature

The futurist being interviewed on the radio talk show ecstatically extolled the benefits of the coming electronic revolution.

After discussing the wonders of shopping, playing games, ordering movies and checking the stock market, all from home through a computer and television set, he gushed: "It sure beats having to put up with grumpy clerks, crowds, bad weather and traffic jams."

The tone of his remarks seemed to suggest that reality is a nuisance compared with the kind of controlled world we can now access through our television.

The electronic revolution is being touted as a cornucopia of limitless variety of titillation and experience. The marriage of computer and telecommunication gives us "virtual reality" — which proponents boast is even better than the real thing. After all, one can enjoy the gut-wrenching thrills and excitement of hand-to-hand combat, the raunchiest sex, a car race or aerial dog fight without any of the attendant risks.

Television is already the most pervasive and powerful medium of communication and information today and brings us more and more of our history lessons, values, priorities and knowledge about the world.

And the medium does provide astounding images few of us can ever experience in person — a view of war from the tip of a Patriot missile, close up glimpses of Mars from a space vehicle, an intimate portrait of a patient's intestinal polyps, daily blow-by-blow skirmishes within a dysfunctional family.

Advances in the technological side of television have been breathtaking. They can be seen in their most impressive state on every broadcast of a sports event or in computer-animated commercials.

From a viewer's perspective, television is better than reality — it's faster, more intimate and clearer than real life. As we rush toward a 500-channel universe, we are told about its unlimited educative potential. But education about what?

Not long ago, the television set was referred to as the boob tube, a pejorative expression that reflected the perceived intellectual content of its transmission. Not anymore. The television set will be the central component of virtual reality and the much touted information highway.

All but forgotten are nettlesome to see the riot of colour, shape and movement portrayed in nature programs on television. Shows like that aren't reflections of reality, they are creations.

By substituting television pictures for the real thing, we are profoundly distanced from it. And living with the artifice of electronic images, we find it easier to think human technology and control are supreme, the sheer inventiveness of our species having allowed us to escape the constraints of our biology.

It is such thinking that enables economists to conclude that since 97 per cent of the American economy is not directly dependent on climate, global warming will have little impact on the economy and the cost of preventive measures will far outweigh the benefits.

Humanity's greatest need today is a restored sense of connection, interdependence and love for other species. That can only come about by experiencing directly, with our bodies, the vastness of the world around us and out there.

We have to feel the heat and cold, smell the aromas and stink, savor the taste and texture of real living things. We need to appreciate the ebb and flow of real time on geological, evolutionary and biological scales, which are totally at odds with the fragmented, disconnected, sped up images that assault our senses through the box.

Most urban dwellers today feel uncomfortable, even frightened by the unfamiliar surroundings of the real world that is our home. The futurist was dead wrong. The titillation of virtual reality and information superhighways is superficial and fleeting and renders us even more susceptible to the dangerous conceit that we no longer need nature.

Reflections

by David Suzuki

questions about the real lessons being acquired from this electronic world by the viewing audience. In real life, nature is exquisitely complex and diverse, but for television it has to be jazzed up because the pace of the natural world is too slow for the conditioned viewer.

Consider what goes into a typical nature program. A wildlife photographer may spend months patiently waiting for a shot-of-a-lifetime seldom seen by another human being. Incredible shots such as those of a large mammal giving birth, avoiding a predator, finding food or playing, are edited together to make a fast-paced program that is chock full of great sequences.

They can't help but be powerfully moving and evocative. Yet the final impression is often more like "Animals Do the Damndest Things" than a genuine insight into their daily routines.

Good crowd in attendance at strawberry tea

To start this week Mary Montgomery and Collin Anderson were here on Saturday night. Mary played a keyboard and sang modern songs along with old beautiful songs. We enjoyed the evening very much. We sincerely thank them.

Estella Burch came and read to us Sunday afternoon. The book is not finished yet. We truly thank Estella. Rev. John Burgess took the evening chapel service and Marion Fisher played the organ. Rev. Burgess can certainly explain every verse in the bible so we can understand just how and when it happened. Thank you John and Marion.

Monday afternoon was the monthly meeting of the Hyland Crest Auxiliary. There was a good attendance and they were finishing plans for coming events. While the meeting was in progress a video was being shown in the lounge. It was of Lucille Clarke's birthday party. Everyone enjoyed the video. Thank you Mr. and Mrs. Clarke for showing it to us.

Tuesday morning chapel service was taken by Doris since there was no speaker. I wasn't present but I'm sure the residents enjoyed it. Later, Linda and Doris took residents from the special care unit, and some from first floor, to Dale and Leslie's Snack Bar and Highlander Motel for their lunch. It does these residents so much good to have a change and a ride in the bus.

Tuesday evening Corinne and Pearl helped us again to play euchre. Many thanks girls.

Wednesday morning there was fitness and Dottie Muirhead read from the local papers before planning the newsletter for Hyland Crest.

Wednesday we had crafts in the afternoon. Dottie came and helped us with whatever we were working at. Thank you Dottie.

Thursday morning the auditorium was set up for the bazaar and strawberry tea to be held in the afternoon. There was a large crowd out to the tea. The whole afternoon was a success and we sincerely thank everyone who supported our effort. The auxiliary was pleased with the tea and bake sale. Activities members were happy with their sales — Jam (Grandma's Love) $709; quilt tickets $381; bazaar $376.15

Friday was Canada Day. Some of the residents went to the festival downtown in Minden, where many activities were taking place. By all reports it was a good day.

I went to West Guilford with my family from Peterborough. They had a successful day there also.

MINISTRY OF NATURAL RESOURCES

Public Notice of a Prescribed Burn

Between late June and mid-August, the Ministry of Natural Resources will be conducting a prescribed burn for reforestation purposes on a 96 ha. (237 acre) parcel of Crown land in Hindon Township. The location of the burn will be between Cinder Lake and Tingey Lake - approximately 8 km southwest of Pine Springs. The exact date of the burn will depend on suitable weather conditions and any northern fire fighting assignments for the Haliburton Fire Centre's crews. The most probable date for the burning will be during the last two weeks of July.

If you observe smoke or helicopter activity in the area of the prescribed burn during this period, please do not drive to the area for a closer look. Access to the burn site will be closed, and curious on-lookers will only block traffic on the access road and impede the movements of the M.N.R. fire crew. You will be welcome to view the site after the fire has been extinguished.

The purpose of this prescribed burn is to prepare a recently logged area for the planting of 200,000 pine and spruce trees in the spring of 1995. For more information on this prescribed burn or on other forestry activities in this area, please contact Peter Hynard of the M.N.R. Minden office at (705) 286-1521. For information on the day of the burn, call the Haliburton Fire Centre at (705) 457-2107.

The monthly meeting of the Minden Agricultural Society (sponsors of the Haliburton County Fair) August 20 and 21 will be held July 14 in the Exhibit building at the fairgrounds at 7:30 p.m.

Club 35 euchre game winners for July 4 included Bob Lewis with most lone hands, June Branning and Stan Walters with the highs, Helen Lee, Lou Penick and Bill Cowen. The 50-50 draw went to Edith Russell. Don't forget the chicken barbecue on July 16.

The fifth triennial reunion of the Ab and Annie Loucks families was held in the Minden area over the Dominion Day weekend. Five events drew just under 100 people over the three days, including a dinner for 82 at the Lochlin Community Centre on Saturday.

The oldest attending was Morgan Loucks, 88, of Minden and the youngest, 3 months, was Edward Davis of Toronto. In addition to coming from all parts of Ontario, attendees represented British Columbia, Prince Edward Island, Wisconsin, Illinois, Missouri and Ohio.

The reunion has been held every three years since the passing of Emily and Vinton Loucks in 1977 and 1980 respectively. Other Minden area families represented included the Dugans, Burks, Littles, Hicks', Waggs and McKnights. Orie and Eleanor Loucks, seasonal residents on Canning Lake, organized the reunion this year.

Audrey Northey was a guest recently at the annual Liver Transplant Picnic in Toronto. Approximately 60 transplant patients and their families attended and Audrey visited with many friends that she and Les had made during his stay in hospital.

Our village has improved in looks this summer as people continue to make improvements to their buildings. A pat on the back to the members of Minden Horticultural Society for their efforts with the barrels and beds of flowers, especially those on Bobcaygeon Road North done by the young members. It was too bad indeed that a great many plants from the barrels done by the youngsters had many plants ripped out and scattered around. Evidently some people just don't appreciate beauty. Pity.

County Town Museum committee welcomes Sarah McDougall, their summer student, now working with Barbara LeBlanc.

Good wishes to the following folks who have been in hospital recently, Iris Taylor and Shirley Hulbig in Civic and Agnes Mullins and Ralph Schroter elsewhere.

Dan Johnston and his finacee Diane of B.C. are visiting his parents Merv and Barb Johnston and while here will attend the wedding of his brother Myles to Corinne Kirk. Dan and Diane will be married in October in B.C.

Visiting with Jean Lacey were her two sisters-in-law, May Hill from Waubashene with daughter Debbie from Bolton and grandson Aaron and Doris Hubbard from Balsam Lake, her husband Richard and daughter Denise and son Daniel, Jennifer and daughters Amanda, Samantha and Sara, all from the Toronto area.

Blake Hughes from Mississauga enjoyed a visit last weekend with his mother Bertha Hughes and enjoyed a chat with other relatives and friends.

Congratulations to Helen Byne who won the $1,500 jackpot at the Minden Rotary bingo on July 3. Helen made a donation of $100 to the Minden Hospital building fund.

Weekending at Millbrook was Dorothy McElwain who enjoyed a visit with Mike and Maureen McElwain and children Josh and Dan.

Tuesday afternoon euchre game winners for Minden Legion Seniors included Irene Fuhr with most lone hands while others were Marg McAfee, Anne Baker and Marie Dennie. The games are held each week at 1:30 and everyone is welcome to attend.

Stanhope Bridge games were also held July 5 at 1 p.m. with a good crowd enjoying the games and the winners were Warren Whelen, Beth Crutchley and Bonni McLean. Everyone is welcome to come out Tuesday afternoons to the bridge games - no partners necessary.

Executive members of Minden Skating Club note that the monthly meeting is held every second Tuesday evening in the Municipal Offices (upstairs) at 7:30 p.m. The next meeting is July 12, anyone interested is welcome to attend.

Brian Henderson and Jim Foster. Other winners were Marian Irwin, Ruth Durkin, Illa Griffin, Rheta Brown, Jim Foster, Claire Brown and Bill Durkin. This is a great game, as I found out, and everyone is welcome to come and join the fun.

A bit late, but congratulations to the organizers of the July 1 events and the Arts Festival of July 2 & 3. Thanks for a great weekend and we understand plans are underway for next year already!

CARDS OF THANKS

On behalf of the Gull River Crazy Raft Race Committee, I just wanted to thank the following for their support, donations, sponsorship and efforts regarding the raft race; the Minden BIA for their continued support, the Highlands Jewellery Store for supplying the plaques for the winning crafts, the Minden Amateur Radio Club for their help in monitoring the race from the start to the finish, the Minden OPP boat for their assistance in ensuring a safe and fair race, my friends at Minden Rotary for "manning" the Rotary booth while I worked running the race, the Minden Times, the Judges Rob Orlowski and Russ Duhaime and finally, to all the participants of the race who I hope will enter the raft race on July 1, 1995 to make it the success it was this year.

The winners and prizes awarded at the Crazy Raft Race:

1. Dave's on 35 captained by Kevin Smith - $150.
2. Rudy's Restaurant captained by Brian Jackson - $100.
3. Mr Rushton and grandson Justin - $50.

Most Unique Craft - College Pro Painters captained by Keith MacKenzie - $50.

Best Costume Crew - Sesame Street Gang, D & S Video captained by Chad Radzio - $50.

There were thirteen rafts entered and all craft eventually made it to the finish line (2 km) at the Main Street Bridge, Minden.

I thank you all.

Barry A. Cray,
 Gull River Raft Race Co-ordinator.

IN MEMORIAM

MISCIO, Bernice and Alfred. Bernice July 16, 1989. Alfred September 2, 1989. In loving memory of Mom and Dad.

God broke all our hearts to prove to us
He only takes the best
And the best parents he did take from us

Time has passed since that sad day
When the ones we loved were taken away;

God took them home, it was His will
But in our hearts they are with us still

They were always there to guide us along,
They were always there when you needed them.

You could talk to them about anything.
What we would give if we could say

Hello Dad and Mom in the same old way;
To hear your voices, see your smiles

To sit with you and chat awhile.
Nothing can be more precious
Than the memories we have of you both

To us you were so special
God must have thought so too
Your last parting wishes

We would like to have heard
And whispered in your ears
We Love and will miss you both

More than words can ever say.
Our last parting words Dad and Mom
Wherever your spirits have taken you

We wish you both peace and happiness together.
And when old times we do recall,
It's then we miss you most of all.

In each one of us there is part of you both
That no one can ever take from us.

We will Love and Miss you both.
Always in our hearts, Mike, Waneita, Tereasa, June, Tony, Dona and spouses and grandchildren.

IN MEMORIAM

STAMP, Sid. In loving memory of my loving husband Sid who passed away July 11, 1985.

There is a bridge of golden memories
From here to heaven above,
It keeps me very close to you

It's called the bridge of love.
Every day no matter where,
Deep in my heart you are always there

You left a place no one can fill
My love for you will never fade
You walk with me down quiet paths

And speak in wind and rain
For the magic power of memories
Gives you back to me again.

Lovingly remembered by wife
Elsie and Family.

KELLY, Fitzroy, In loving memory of Fitzroy who passed away July 14, 1989.

He is gone but not forgotten
And as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking
Thoughts of him are always near.

Days of sadness will come o'er us
Many think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That lies in the heart concealed.

Ever remembered by Annie and family.
